

“

I made my debut appearance at the Albuquerque Isotopes game on May 2, 2014. I can be spotted at schools, libraries, community events, and even on the train promoting rail safety. I love to help with rail safety presentations, give high-fives, and show off my dancing skills wherever I go. I make an appearance at about 30 events a year. My favorite saying is “Look, Listen, Live”, which I act out with my wings (since roadrunners can’t talk!).
